

MEMBERS OF THE ARIZONA BOARD OF REGENTS
IN ORDER OF APPOINTMENT

DATES HAVE BEEN GLEANED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES (ESPECIALLY EARLY ONES) WHICH DO NOT ALWAYS AGREE AND ARE THEREFORE SUBJECT TO VERIFICATION

The Arizona Board of Regents was created in 1886 to govern the University of Arizona. The territorial governor appointed the members. The governor also served as an ex-officio member of the board, as did the territorial superintendent of public instruction. The colleges at Tempe and Flagstaff, forerunners of Arizona State University and Northern Arizona University, did not initially come under the supervision of the Board of Regents. Each college had its own three-member governing board chaired by the superintendent of public instruction. This arrangement continued after statehood in 1912. On March 12, 1945, Governor Sidney P. Osborn signed legislation creating a unified Board of Regents. This board met for the first time in June 1945.
